

Ends Search for Brother

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

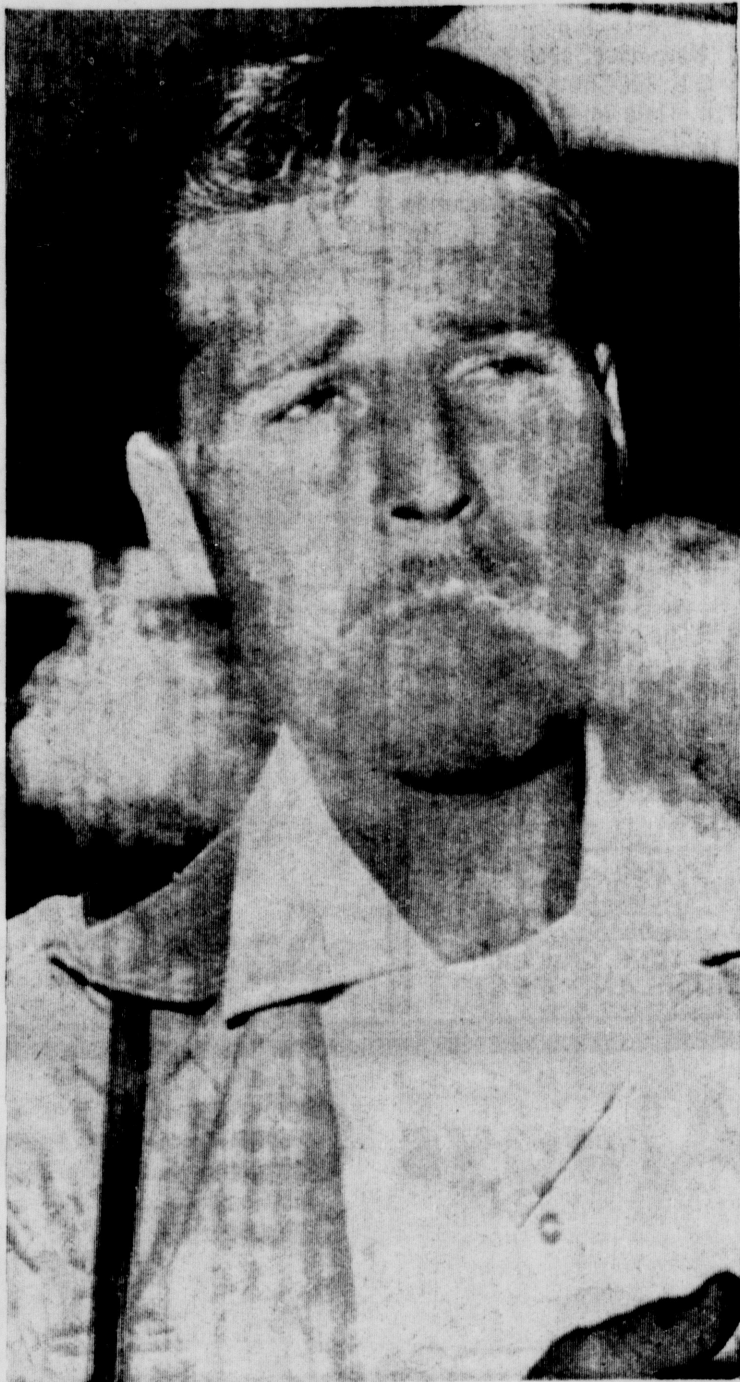

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

"I finally convinced them that my one wish was to have my brother's remains with me when I left. It was hell, but it was worthwhile. My brother would have done the same thing for me, and I would do it again," Dawson said.

His wife agreed: "I feel it was worthwhile," but added: "I'm glad that he is home."

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave. In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

SAN FRANCISCO — Don Dawson came home, after a futile search for a brother missing in action and nearly four months in a Viet Cong prison. The 28-year-old Costa Mesa, Calif., tuna fisherman, looking fit despite his imprisonment, told newsmen of practically nothing South Vietnamese jungles with leaflets offering a reward for his brother and being confined in a cage "like an animal." He is shown upon arrival here enroute home. (UPI)

Explanation Called For In Bribe Case

Congressional Committee Slates Hearings Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today called on the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency to explain why a formal denial of a $3-million bribery incident that took place in Singapore in 1960 backfired to the embarrassment of the U.S. government.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East, said closed hearings will be held after the Labor Day recess to obtain an explanation from responsible officials on bribery allegations brought by Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew.

Lee threatened to name an American presidential intermediary of high rank who he said offered him the bribe in 1960 if he would not reveal the arrest of an American CIA agent trapped trying to buy information from Singapore secret agents.

State Department officials were taken aback Tuesday when Lee released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk which apologized for improper activities by American agents and promised disciplinary action.

Zablocki said it was "most unfortunate" that the State Department had issued a formal denial of the bribery charge on Tuesday and then had itself reversed on Wednesday.

"It is not too difficult to look back to what action Prime Minister Lee was talking about," Zablocki said. He refused to elaborate.

State Department officials insisted that only Rusk and the Central Intelligence Agency knew of the letter to Lee. Zablocki indicated that Congress had been filled in on the incident when it occurred toward the close of the Eisenhower administration.

CATV Cable Installation Is Underway

Installation of wires for the community antenna television system in Sedalia got underway in the southwest portion of Sedalia today, and service should be offered in this part of the city in about 60 days.

Larry Hudson, president of Cablevision, Inc., of Sedalia, said hardware to hold the wiring had been previously installed on poles owned by the Missouri Public Service Co. or the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in the portion of town south of Highway 50 and west of Ohio. About 900 poles are involved.

Construction on the tower, to be located about one mile southwest of Sedalia, has not yet been started. Hudson said the firm's application to the Federal Aviation Agency for air clearance for the tower has not yet been approved, but approval should be received soon. He said with ideal weather the tower could be constructed in two weeks, but allowances for bad weather placed the estimate at about 30 days.

Hudson said that about two weeks before the first portion of the system is completed, the firm will move offices into Sedalia and begin solicitation of customers for the CATV service.

When questioned about the possibility of installing additional poles in Sedalia, Hudson said, "We will need no poles in addition to the poles we have contracted for from the MPSC and telephone company." He added that his firm has been working with the public service company and telephone company in making arrangements for the CATV firm to use existing poles in conjunction with these two utility firms.

Election Set For Oct. 5 In Districts

Vacant Legislative Seats To Be Filled By Special Vote

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes today set Tuesday, Oct. 5 as the date for special elections to fill two legislative vacancies.

One is the Senate seat of Sen. Jack C. Jones, D-Carrollton, who was sworn in Monday in Kansas City as a federal referee in bankruptcy.

His 16th senatorial district covers Pettis, Saline, Lafayette, Ray, Carroll, Caldwell, Livingston and Daviess Counties.

The other vacancy is in the House, representing Dunklin County. It formerly was represented by Charles B. James, Clarkton Democrat who died recently. He was chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture for many years.

The Oct. 5 date would be well in advance of a special legislative session the governor may call around the middle of October to work on a proposed constitutional amendment to set up a bipartisan commission to redistrict the House.

The governor indicated he would consult with House leaders this week in an effort to determine whether such a proposal would have a chance.

Caution Note On Registering For The Draft

The Pettis County Selective Service Board reminds young men nearing their 18th birthdays that they are required to register with the local board within five days after reaching age 18.

Failure to register promptly could result in immediate induction into the military service as a delinquent.

In one unusual circumstance, Mrs. Verna Williams, clerk of the board, pointed out that the young men who enlisted in the military before reaching age 18 must register with the local selective service board upon their release from active duty. By enlisting before age 18, these men were never required to register with the local board, she said.

Men in the military service age should also promptly report any changes in their marital status or number of dependents, factors which may alter their draft classification.

Chief Warns Against Kitchenware Thefts

JENNINGS, Mo. (AP) — A memo on the police Bulletin Board in Jennings reads:

"To all Police Department personnel.
Subject: Thefts.

"We want to give you notice that we have placed some new knives, forks and spoons in our kitchen, not knowing whether this will be an inducement or not. Let me assure you that your good Lord better help you if we find that any of our police are taking these or anything else.

"Any policeman caught taking the kitchen utensils will be prosecuted and put in the jail in which you have put many people."

Signed: "Chief John Obertz," this department.

B-52s Raid In 20 Miles Of Saigon

Downtown Area Windows Rattled By Bomb Drop

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Air Force B52 bombers attacked a suspected Viet Cong area today, a U.S. military spokesman said, with a raid that rattled windows in downtown Saigon, 20 miles from the target.

The area hit was north-northwest of Saigon in the Ho Bo woods in Dinh Duong Province, the spokesman said.

The spokesman, under security restrictions, said only that "a number" of the Strategic Air Command bombers carried out the raid, the 17th reported B52 attack of the Viet Nam war.

The Guam-based B52s have stepped up their activity in recent weeks with indications this role will be further increased. B52s made their first double-header attack of the war Tuesday, hitting targets 30 miles north and 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

In other air activity, the second U.S. helicopter to crash in two days went down 260 miles northeast of Saigon, injuring the four American crewmen aboard.

Military authorities said the crash occurred near An Khe, which is on Route 19 between Qui Nhon and Pleiku. The four men were evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang. Two were reported in serious condition.

The craft went down in what is considered a secure area. The crash was believed due to mechanical failure.

Another U.S. helicopter, this one apparently under heavy Viet Cong fire, crashed Wednesday 25 miles northwest of Saigon, killing four Americans and one Vietnamese.

Emphasis On Safety By Miller

"Labor Day is the last long weekend of the season, and all of us share the responsibility of making it a safe one," William E. Miller, Sedalia Chief of Police, said today.

"There will probably be as many cars and more bikes on the road over Labor Day than during State Fair week," he continued, "and I particularly want to emphasize the need for safety on the road for this weekend."

Chief Miller pointed out that an estimated 57 million people, youngsters, adults and senior citizens alike, more than in any country in the world, ride bikes every day.

"We see them in increasing numbers in our area," he said, "riding for fun, fitness or transportation, riding to the beaches, ballparks and other recreation centers."

The chief pointed out that motorists share the road with cyclists, and thus both share the responsibility for safety. He said that knowledge of the rules of the road, common sense and simple courtesy would go a long way in making Labor Day weekend a safe one on Sedalia area roads.

"Since motorists are licensed," Chief Miller concluded, "I must assume they know how to drive safely, and so I would just like to warn them to be alert for cyclists and give them the same consideration they would like to receive themselves."

Recreational Area Project Explored

A large lake and recreational area encompassing some 3,500 acres in Pettis County is currently being explored by a Sedalia Lions Club committee working in support of the governor's Outdoor Recreation Program.

Several members of the committee, Tom Baker, Russell Rhoads, Don King, William O. Hiatt and Virgil Herrick, met Wednesday night with the Sedalia Board of Public Works in preliminary discussion of such a project.

Members of the works board first investigated the availability of federal and state funds for use in impoundment construction at an Outdoor Recreation Conference staged by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes earlier this year in Jefferson City. But the board found that such funds could be utilized in developing only recreational areas surrounding impoundments.

The Lions Club pitched into the venture when it was deemed preferable that a city board not assume the leadership. One

Order Truck Lines to File Year Reports

The Missouri Public Service Commission today ordered 298 dump truck lines, including 11 from Sedalia and surrounding towns, to file annual reports with the commission within 30 days or face suspension of intrastate authority.

The commission said the truck lines had been informed in July that their annual reports were overdue. The commission has extended the deadline until Oct. 1. Failure to file the reports, which were originally due on or before April 1, will mean suspension, Judge William R. Clark, chairman of the PSC said.

Copies of the Public Service Commission order have been sent to the Missouri Highway Patrol, it was reported. Included on the order from this area are:

In Sedalia—Elmer Lane, 514 East Saline; Lewis C. Green, Route 1; Willis Todd, 501 East Howard; Leroy Corbett, 501 East Howard; and Shirley Bishop and Son, 1208 South Washington.

In the Sedalia area—William W. Taylor, Slater; E. W. Wittman, Route 1, Marshall; Carl Cundiff, Sweet Springs; Charles E. Young, Marshall; Alfred G. Dunning, Clinton; and Charles Scott, Sweet Springs.

Would By-Pass Dresden

Plan Dual Lane--LaMonte To Dresden

The Missouri State Highway Commission has given tentative approval of plans for the eventual development of a dual lane highway on about an eight-mile long section of U. S. Route 50, between LaMonte and Dresden, in Pettis County.

The plan for rebuilding this section of U. S. Route 50 is long range in nature and no actual dates for construction activities have been set. However, by planning the changes now the necessary preliminary engineering details and possible right of way acquisition can be carried out and thus speed up the development of the new routing.

The approval line would begin at the east end of the present dual lane highway about a mile west of LaMonte. It extends east parallel with the present highway but on the south side of it to carry future east-bound traffic. It crosses Route 127 where a new connection will be constructed to provide a direct grade intersection between member of the board who is also a Lion, Wm. H. Bunn, is serving as chairman of the club committee, however.

Bunn told committee members and the board that he sees the recreational area as a joint city and county effort providing benefits for both. Federal funds would be available for planning such an area, it was pointed out, and a general site surveyed by the Water Department's consulting engineers Black & Veatch in 1963 could be expanded.

This engineering plan — endorsed this year by Hare & Hare city planners—lies south of Sedalia and east of Highway 65 between the Community Center Road and Route V. Black & Veatch and Hare & Hare both envisioned water surface area of some 800 to 1,000 acres. Additional acreage rounding out the 3,500 acre proposal would be used for recreational facilities including camping, picnicking, boating and bridge paths. Such an impoundment would be advantageous to the city in additional water supply.

The Lions Club committee with the support of the works board plans to continue exploration of the proposal and discussions with city and county officials are scheduled.

In board action, the purchase of a 90 gallon capacity steam cleaner for the Water Department was approved at an expenditure of $391. The piece of equipment will be used in cleaning tools, equipment and etc.

Purchase of an $8,085 crane, subject for mounting on a truck, was also okayed by the board. The crane will have a 10,000 pound lift capacity.

A legal advertisement calling for bids on trapping of muskrats from Springfield Lake was approved by the board and is to be published in October near the trapping season. The advertisement was prepared by the board's legal counsel, Robert Gardner. Muskrats have been on the increase in the reservoir and the board hopes the trapping will eliminate the potential of damage to banks around the lake.

Takes Pay Reduction To Become Teacher

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. in 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

Asks Dispute Settlement Before the Long Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, stepping personally into steel negotiations at a crucial moment, told industry and union representatives today he sees no reason why their dispute can't be settled — hopefully before Labor Day.

Johnson, who would like to spend the holiday weekend with his family at his Texas ranch, spent 43 minutes with the negotiators.

The President, who got a report last night from Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor that indicated progress was being made, obviously thought this was the best time to step personally into the picture. Johnson emphasized the losses that would be experienced by both sides in the event of a nationwide strike.

Citing an array of statistics showing how well the companies and their workers have fared, and coupling these with other figures on the costly effects of the 116-day steel strike in 1959, Johnson said another strike could put as big a dent in the economy in a couple of months as would a recession lasting nine months.

Johnson told the negotiators he had not walked from his White House office to their conference room in the neighboring executive office building to present a settlement proposal. Neither, he said, did he want to twist arms.

But he asserted that he wanted both sides to know how a strike would affect them and the nation, and to urge them to consider the national interest.

Accidents Up During August On City Streets

Accident statistics on city streets were up in all categories for the month of August — the month of Sedalia's heaviest traffic as state fairgoers converged here.

Police records show officers investigated a total of 60 motor vehicle mishaps resulting in 34 injuries during the month. Two pedestrians were injured and three motorcycle accidents were counted, resulting in injuries in all three cases.

The increase of accidents involving the two-wheeled vehicles is a growing concern for police and officers caution motorists to be more observant of motorcycle and motorbike operators. August statistics compared to the same month last year when the city counted 58 mishaps, 17 injuries and one pedestrian injury.

Despite three fatalities thus far in 1965, accident and injury statistics are improved somewhat from last year when 481 accidents and 173 injuries had occurred to date. Through August the totals for this year were 474 accidents and 160 injuries.

Officer Clarence Harrell compiles the police accident statistics and records.

Flood Control Funds OK'd For Missouri

Public Works Panel Nod to $218 Million In Northwest Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $218 million flood control program for northwestern Missouri is authorized in a water projects bill reported out of the House Public Works Committee Wednesday.

The bill, subject to House and Senate approval, includes a Grand River flood control project and reservoirs designed to protect Smithville, Excelsior Springs and other communities on the Platte and Fishing Rivers from perennial floods.

Money for the authorized projects must come in later appropriation bills, which may take several years.

The Grand River plan is authorized five dams and reservoirs, at or near Pattonsburg, Mercer, Braymer, Brookfield and Trenton. Deleted from the Army Engineers' version were reservoirs near Linneus and St. Catherine, and a power plant at the Pattonsburg dam. Also rejected were local protection works on Honey Creek and No Creek.

Smithville, flooded by the Little Platte two straight summers, would be protected by a reservoir, part of $26.889 million worth of work in the Platte River basin. Channel improvements would be provided upstream into Iowa.

Reservoirs would be constructed on Dry Fork and East Fork of the Fishing River at an estimated cost of $7.26 million to protect Excelsior Springs, flooded this summer as was Smithville.

These additional Missouri projects also were approved: Chariton and Little Chariton Rivers, $9.167 million.

Wildlife refuge for the Kay-singer Bluff reservoir in Vernon, Bates and St. Clair counties, $3.443 million.

U. S. Funds Approved For Airport

The Federal Aviation Agency today announced allocation of $15,915 federal matching funds for fiscal 1966 for development and construction at Sedalia's Memorial Airport under the federal aid airport program.

Announcement of the allocation came in a wire from Missouri Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long and Rep. William J. Randall in Washington.

Allocation of the funds formalizes the fund matching agreement between the city and FAA for the 1,600 foot runway extension scheduled at the city airport. The city will provide a similar amount to complete the work.

The Menefee Construction Company was the successful bidder on the project and an airport attendant said today that equipment has been moved to the airport in preparation for a work start. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Aug. 4, but a start was delayed until after the Missouri State Fair in light of increased air traffic here during the week. Rains delayed the start this week.

Menefee's bid on the runway extension portion of the project was $27,562 while the Moll Electric Company was the low bidder at $3,000 on additional lighting.

Keep Home Dry

Mildew thrives in hot, humid weather — the kind we are having now in many parts of the country. High moisture causes the mold spores, which are always present in the air, to settle and grow on shoes, clothing, furniture and books.

The best protection against mildew is, of course, in its prevention. And to prevent mildew, you must remove its cause — the dampness. For this purpose the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests the use of air conditioners, dehumidifiers, heat and chemicals.

Because cool air holds less moisture than warm air, air conditioners are helpful. Dehumidifiers are useful wherever is a problem.

You can also fight off dampness by heating the house for a short time. Then open the doors and windows to let the moist air out. An exhaust fan will help force it out.

To dry the air in closets and other small areas, keep a small electric light burning. The heat from the lamp will be enough to prevent mildew if the space is not too large. Or you can place a small electric heater in a large closet. Use with extreme care — be sure the heater is a sufficient distance from anything that will burn.

A much safer way to keep a closet dry is with silica gel or activated alumina. These chemicals will absorb the moisture in the air. Hank them in a cloth bag from the closet rod, or put them on a shelf or on the floor. The chemicals can be used over and over. (You simply dry them in a vented oven at 300 degrees F. for several hours.)

Grape Jelly (Without added Pectin)

Take four cups juice (takes about 3½ lbs. Concord grapes and ½ cup water); 3 cups sugar. Select about ¼ underripe and ¾ fully ripe grapes. Sort, wash and remove from stems. Crush grapes, add water, cover and bring to boil on high heat. Reduce heat and simmer for ten minutes. Extract juice. To prevent formation of tartrate crystals in the jelly, let juice stand in a cool place overnight, then strain through two thicknesses of damp cheesecloth to remove the crystals that have formed. To make jelly—measure juice into kettle. Add sugar and stir well. Boil over high heat above the boiling point of water, or until jelly mixture sheets from the spoon. Remove foam quickly. Pour immediately into hot containers and seal.

Grape Conserve

4½ cups grapes with skins removed (about 4 lbs. of Concord grapes).

1 orange
4 cups sugar
1 cup seedless raisins
½ teaspoon salt
Skins from grapes
1 cup nuts, chopped fine.

Sort and wash grapes; remove from stem. Slip skins from grapes and save. Measure the skinned grapes into a kettle and boil, stirring constantly, for about 10 minutes or until the seeds show. Press through a sieve to remove seeds. Chop the orange finely without peeling it. Add the orange, sugar, raisins and salt to the sieved grapes. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly until mixture begins to thicken (about ten minutes). Add the grape skins and boil, stirring constantly, to 9 degrees F. above the boiling point of water (about 10 minutes). Do not overcook; the mixture will thicken more on cooling. Add nuts and stir well.

Remove from heat; skim and stir alternately for 5 minutes. Ladle conserve into hot glasses to within ½ inch of top. Seal immediately with ½ inch layer of melted paraffin. If canning jars are used, pour the hot fruit mixture to top of jars, put lids in place and seal immediately.

What Makes Fruit Juices Jelly?

Pectin is necessary to make fruit juices jelly. It is a carbohydrate, found in all fruits chiefly near the skin, in the core, and around the seeds. Pectin is most abundant in slightly underripe fruit and is diluted in fruit in a rainy season.

Heat is necessary to release the pectin from the fruit tissue, but over-cooking will destroy it—especially in very acid fruit. Sugar tends to prevent the extraction of pectin.

Commercial fruit pectin, a concentrate made from apples or citrus fruit, is a modern aid to successful jam and jelly making. Two types are on the market — the liquid and the powdered.

With its use, you can use all fully ripe fruit, full of natural flavor, instead of having to use a portion of underripe fruit for its pectin content. Too, the length of the cooking time is much shorter when commercial pectin is used.

Acids are found in all fruits and vary in kind and amounts in different fruits. As with pectin, the acid content changes during growth and ripening. The fully ripe fruit has less acid and pectin than the slightly underripe. Acid is necessary for the formation of jelly. An increase of acid, within limits, decreases the amount of sugar needed.

Mineral salts, also found in all fruits, affect the acidity of the juice and influence the ease with which the pectin is released.

Sugar is needed to jelly fruit juice. Too little sugar gives a tough jelly, but too much makes it sirupy. Whether the sugar is cane or beet is unimportant as they are the same in chemical composition.

Studio Prop Men Real 'Co-Stars'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The real and unsung costars of many new television series in the coming season will be the studio prop men in the gimmick shows.

The writers think up the situations, the actors play them out. But it is the prop man with his ingenuity and trunk of visual tricks who makes things work.

Jimmy Harris, prop man of NBC's new "Get Smart," has had his inventive talents strained to fill orders for the sight gags that abound in this secret agent spoof.

It was Harris who reconstructed a man's shoe so that it contained a secret telephone under the retractable sole and heel. Secret agent Smart — played by Don Adams — is a communications nut, so Harris also has had to build concealed phones in a flower pot, a pair of eyeglasses, a wallet, a belt buckle, a garter, a bed post and a cigarette lighter—as well as turn a normal telephone into a lighter.

His source of materials, Harris confessed, is a toy shop specializing in do-it-yourself miniature models of cars and planes.

"Hub caps make dandy miniature microphones and the wheels do very nicely for hugging devices," Harris explained.

He visited a hardware store when he had to fill an order to build a pair of "wall-climbing shoes" for Smart. He merely attached a half-dozen outside rubber suction cups to the metal foot platform of a pair of ice skates.

Other assignments are easier: An old railroadman's pocket watch, found in a pawnshop, was easily converted into a secret television set.

Chill Wind Blows Into NJ Election

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—"Those of you who know me know that I am a Marxist and a Socialist. Therefore I do not fear or regret the impending Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam. I welcome it."

With those words by a Rutgers University professor at a Viet Nam "teach-in" April 23, a chill wind from the cold war blew into New Jersey's gubernatorial election, which had been a solemn but colorless discussion of such things as taxes, highway plans and education policy.

State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., an underdog Republican candidate looking for the issue to end 12 years of Democratic reign, charged a state university had no right to keep on its payroll a professor who expressed such sentiments.

The university Board of Governors made two reviews of the criticism of Prof. Eugene Genovese, 35, and refused to fire him. It said he kept his political views out of his history classes.

Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes favored to win re-election after his upset victory four years ago, refused to overrule the Board of Governors. Academic freedom prevented it, he said.

A two-man legislative committee made an inconclusive investigation.

Then followed letters to editors, resolutions by veterans organizations, and formation of committees for and against Genovese or academic freedom. The election campaign, not even officially under way, suddenly had a fiery issue.

The center of the controversy is a professor whose specialty is 19th century history of the South. A book of his entitled "The Political Economy of Slavery" is due for publication next month. His superiors at Rutgers rate him a well-trained scholar, conscientious, agreeable and cooperative.

He has admitted being a teen-aged Communist. He said he was expelled by the party in 1950 a few months before the Korean War started and has signed the standard nonsubversive oath required of state university professors.

Two years ago he wrote a book review criticizing a Communist author for a retreat from Marxism. A party organ retorted by accusing Genovese of being opposed to peaceful coexistence, accepting nuclear war and of generally favoring Red China and Albania over the Soviet Union.

Prisoners Walk Away From Honor Farm

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—Two prisoners walked away from the honor farm outside the walls at the Federal Penitentiary sometime between 8 and 10 p.m. Wednesday.

The prison identified them as Ralph Wayne Taylor, 36, who still has a little more than a year to serve on a six-year sentence imposed at Kansas City for interstate transportation of forged securities; and Edward Eugene Carrier, 30, of Catoosa, Okla., serving a three-year sentence imposed at Montgomery, Ala., in March of 1964 for interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Carrier has "13" tattooed on the back of his left hand and letters on the fingers spell "hard luck." He has a dagger on the tarsi on the right hand, and letters spelling "love eddie."

Call In Guardsmen

Betsy Roars On Toward The Bahamas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Betsy roared with increased fury today toward the southeastern Bahama Islands, but a gradual turn toward the northwest eased the storm's threat to the heavily populated southeast coast of Florida.

Late this morning, the Miami Weather Bureau reported that the hurricane's top winds had risen to 115 miles an hour, but no further intensification was indicated.

"Betsy is expected to remain a small hurricane," the advisory said, "and is forecast to move on a west-northwest course near 10 miles an hour during the next 12 to 24 hours, with a little more turning toward the northwest late Friday."

That track would take the storm center a short distance north of the Bahamian island of San Salvador.

An earlier report from a hurricane hunter plane indicated that top winds had risen to 125 miles an hour, but this figure was downgraded after further readings.

Gales extended 200 miles in all directions from the eye except on the southwest side, where they whipped only 75 miles.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—British Columbia residents who believe in Dominic Charlie can breathe easier.

Last year, the elderly weather prophet of the Squamish Indian tribe looked at the leaves and decided from their color it would be a bad winter.

British Columbia was buried in snow which tied up traffic and vital services and drove some suburbanites to move into downtown hotels last winter.

Charlie looked at the leaves again Wednesday.

"It's gonna be mild," he said.

Foxes Free Since Webb Was Elected

RENO, Nev. (AP)—As a Philadelphia banker, Stuart B. Webb used to spend his leisure hours fox hunting.

He's found no fox hunting since moving to Nevada to be president of the state's second largest bank.

Webb, 40, already has filled a heart's desire by becoming top officer of the Nevada Bank of Commerce, with 13 branches throughout the state and assets of $95.6 million.

Webb was born, reared and educated in the East. He moved to Reno in April as administrative vice president and became president July 29.

Why did he come? "I was looking for a situation that would lead to a top spot in the banking business. This one came to my attention, so I seized it. It's always been my heart's desire to be a bank president."

Webb did have some qualms about moving from the old, established eastern financial world to Nevada, the only state with casino gambling.

Casinos reported gross winnings of more than $290 million during 1964.

Casinos have an excellent cash flow, Webb says. "Their business is cash. Very little credit is involved in it. Ready short-term credit depends on the cash-flow analysis and this comes up quickly."

Nevada has a newer, lustier economy than the East, Webb says.

"As a result, I think the banks extend more credit to a particular customer than would fit the pattern in the East."

But growth has created a greater demand for capital than Nevada banks can meet, so a large amount of building financing still comes from the East, Webb says.

"The attractive thing here is the high interest rate pattern. It's 20 to 25 per cent higher than in the East. We get a standard rate of 7 per cent on loans compared to 5½ per cent in the East."

Webb and his wife have three children, Peter, 15; Nancy, 8, and Scott, 5.

Webb is a native of Washington, D.C., who was graduated from Lehigh University in 1950. He did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers before joining Provident National Bank in Philadelphia.

Computer Snags Scofflaws

While walking up Ohio avenue with a friend we noticed him reach into his pocket and pull out a yellow envelope placing therein a 25c coin. This he deposited in the familiar metal box at the corner without hardly changing pace.

The maneuver was so casual that it was apparent he had become accustomed to the procedure of paying off for parking his car overtime at meters.

By and large that is the regular practice of motorists receiving an overtime ticket; they may grumble a bit, but they pay.

However, the police court record from time to time reveals that some motorists evidently view with haughty indifference the yellow tickets they find on their windshields. These are simply ignored until as many as a dozen or two violations are entered against them. The ultimate result is payment of a fine of $1.00 instead of 25c for each violation.

That seems to be a high price to pay for the temporary privilege of expressing contempt or aversion for the city's parking rules. Scorn it must be. Can anyone excuse himself for failing to turn in a dozen or more parking tickets because of forgetfulness?

Sometimes it is difficult to track down the violators. It has been such a problem in the big cities that a new method has been evolved to cope with the scofflaw—the man or woman who breaks traffic regulations and then ignores the tickets he gets.

We read that New York is testing out a computer device that is snagging motorists right and left. A policeman at one end of a bridge radios random samples of license plate numbers of passing cars to a central computer which has been programmed with the continually updated numbers of thousands of scofflaws, also the numbers on stolen cars.

Long before a car can cross a bridge—in a few thousandths of a second—the computer scans its memory banks and radios back any wanted numbers to other officers waiting at the other end of the bridge.

Since May 2,000 scofflaws have been located by this method.

General use of the system is being recommended not only for its effectiveness in tracking down law violators, but also for the encouragement its use will give many motorists to pay up before they are computerized.

Sedalia is not yet ready for this type of automation primarily because there are so few scofflaws hereabouts it is not too difficult to catch up with them.

US Free Enterprise Myth Exploded

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Free enterprise — up to a point. The general welfare comes first. This country has moved a long way from the myth of a truly free enterprise system.

The latest example is President Johnson's intervention in the steel dispute which, if it became a prolonged strike, would damage the economy and therefore most Americans.

Even in their earliest days Americans loved the free competition slogan while they made a joke of it.

In their first attempt at union under the Articles of Confederation — from 1781 to 1789 when the colonies became states with a central government — the individual states were entranced with the go-it-alone idea.

Each considered itself sovereign. The central government, without a president or courts, had only a Congress where the representatives were more like ambassadors than representatives.

The central government couldn't impose taxes or tariffs. The states set up their own tariffs, particularly against one another, to protect their residents from outside competition.

They were whizzing toward disaster, recognized it, set up the present government, and, in the first Congress, passed a tariff act to protect Americans from foreign competition.

Through most of American history presidents rejected the idea of government responsibility for the general welfare even while the government was giving new railroads land and subsidies.

One president vetoed a bill to help the insane poor, saying it would make the poor only more hopeless and dependent. Another vetoed a bill to help drought-stricken farmers, saying: "Though the people should support the government, the government should not support the people."

The latter happened in 1887, the very year in which Congress took one of its most far-reaching steps by creating the Interstate Commerce Commission to put controls on what railroads could charge.

It was a pioneer in the vast system of government controls of today. But this happened at the very moment when big business showed how little stomach it had for truly free competition by creating trusts.

In this same period millions of Americans who never heard of Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, were his disciples and his victims by absorbing his belief in the devil take the hindmost.

In this view the poor were poor because they were inferior and the rich rich because they were superior.

But while the country still followed this rugged individualism idea, the Germans had set up unemployment pay (almost 60 years ahead of this country) and the British social security (more than 20 years ahead of this country).

Even President Herbert Hoover, a humane man, as late as 1932 couldn't bring himself to accept the idea the government should give direct help to the impoverished.

But the disaster of depression made Americans face what they had been tardy to acknowledge, although throughout history individual groups had been seeking special benefits: That the government not only had a responsibility for the general welfare but should assert it. Then, for the first time, in 1946 Congress said so in the employment act of that year. The great change came with the New Deal.

Welfare programs, established then, have been expanded enormously. And government really butted in on the free enterprise relations between management and labor with the Wagner Act of 1935 and the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

The former compelled employers to deal with employees' unions and the latter, in the case of big industries, empowered the government to get an injunction to delay a strike at least 60 days.

Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and now Johnson all intervened to prevent big, damaging strikes.

So, while Americans still pay lip service to the idea of truly free enterprise, they ignore it when it might damage the general welfare.

Surgical Repair For Esophagus Illness

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — What is the cause of diverticulum of the esophagus? Is there any cure?

A — In one type of esophageal diverticulum a weakness in the wall of the esophagus permits an outpouching which enlarges due to the normal pressures as swallowed food passes the weak spot. This type is usually seen in elderly persons. As the outpouching continues to enlarge food may enter the blind sac. This causes pressure on the esophagus from the outside and makes swallowing difficult. Surgical repair is the only treatment.

The second type is less common. It is caused by adhesions pulling on the wall of the esophagus from without. This type is usually small and rarely produces any symptoms.

Q — I am a retired man of 66. Lately I have had a slight pain now and then in the vicinity of my appendix. I always thought that once a person reached 60 the appendix was shriveled up and practically obliterated. What do you think?

A — Appendicitis is not uncommon in persons who are over 60 since there is no appreciable shriveling with age. The pain in the right lower part of your abdomen may be due to a great variety of causes but appendicitis is most unlikely because that is an acute disease in which the pain is severe. Chronic appendicitis is rare and occurs only in persons who had had more than one attack of acute appendicitis. Most persons have their appendix removed in the first attack. Better have your doctor determine what is causing your pain.

Q — I have bowlegs. Are there any exercises that would help me?

A — Exercises will strengthen your muscles but will not change the shape of your bones. In young children braces will sometimes straighten the bones but if you are over 14 you will either have to make friends with this condition or have the curved bones broken and realigned.

Q — Since red blood cells carry oxygen and oxygen is necessary for breathing isn't it true that the red blood cells are affected in some way when a person has a disease, such as asthma, that impedes the breathing?

A — In asthma and other diseases in which air hunger develops, an increase in the rate of breathing compensates for the difficulty in getting oxygen to the blood through the lungs. In a very severe asthmatic attack, however, the lungs do not supply enough oxygen to the blood and the carbon dioxide level of the blood increases. The reduced hemoglobin then gives the blood a bluish color in contrast to that of red oxyhemoglobin. In asthma this is rarely severe enough to cause loss of consciousness.

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS: Bungling Bureaucrats. — The all-knowing federal bureaucrats who want to place everything under their control may have a lot of explaining to do.

Sen. John Williams, R-Del., has called for a full-scale investigation into reports that housewives in three states — New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio have been sold horsemeat labeled "Government - Inspected Boneless Beef."

"It's a great mystery," says Williams, "how for more than a year these federal meat inspectors failed to detect the difference between horsemeat and beef."

Carl Lomas is now the head, has leased a store building near the intersection of Third street and Engineer avenue and is now conducting very successful meetings there. Seats for the hall were donated by the Central, Sturges and Babcock Lumber companies. The hall is distinctly self-supporting.

Russians Want Rail Outlet to Atlantic

(Editors Note: Drew Pearson's column is written today by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Swedish Intelligence has intercepted a secret Soviet plan, as daring as it is ominous, to bring military pressure on the Scandinavian countries to sign over railroad rights across Finland, Sweden and Norway all the way to the Atlantic.

The Russians want a concession to use the Great Northern Railway that runs through Lap country from Varsila on the Soviet-Finnish border to the seaport of Narvik on the Norwegian coast. This would give the Russians an ice-free outlet to the Atlantic.

The Swedes learned about the plan from a series of coded communications that they picked up from Soviet Military Intelligence. They broke the code, translated the messages, and tipped off the United States what they had uncovered.

Whether the bold scheme is merely a contingency plan, to be used in case of increased East-West tension, isn't clear. It could also be a clever hoax, deliberately planted on the Swedes in order to keep them off balance.

There has been disturbing evidence, however, of a Soviet build-up opposite the Scandinavian countries.

When Do We Go Home?

In the sweltering summer the biggest issue on Capitol Hill becomes the adjournment date. On this the two leaders of Congress disagree.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, yearning to get back to his native Montana, is driving to close down Congress by Labor Day.

Speaker John McCormack, on the other hand, insists that it will be impossible to finish the legislative workload until late September or even early October.

Mansfield at one time told House leaders huffily that he intended to adjourn the Senate on Labor Day whether the House goes out of session or not. House leaders retorted that they will stay in session until their work is done, and let the Senate go home.

From the White House, President Johnson is applying all the pressure he can bring to bear upon the leaders to get several key bills out of the way before they go home. He called in Mansfield and Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen the other day to plead with them to pass his priority bills.

He wants them to take up federal aid for higher education next, then the bill to

Agreement On Ground Rules to Save Marriage

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A year ago a Chicago wife agreed to drop divorce proceedings if her husband abided by a set of rules she laid down for him.

The 31 points in her ultimatum included such things as no long hunting or fishing trips for the husband, no membership in any club or organization that didn't include his wife, the opening of a joint bank account, the husband's help with the children and with family shopping.

The husband stuck to the rules. Divorce proceedings were dropped, and another marriage was saved. Since the husband in this case didn't get to make a list of what he expected from his wife, this particular map for marital accord seems a bit one-sided.

But at least one partner knew exactly what the other expected, which is more than can be said for most marriages.

We would probably have far fewer divorces if before marriage a couple would tell each other frankly, "This is what I expect of a wife," or, "This is what I expect of a husband."

Marriage might not look quite so romantic to the prospective bride if her husband told her frankly that he expected her to be an excellent housekeeper, a good cook, a shrewd shopper, a dutiful daughter-in-law, and willing to hold down an outside job. Yet that is no more (and a good deal less) than most young men marrying today expect of their wives.

And a prospective bridegroom might be astonished to learn that the girl of his dreams would look with a jaundiced eye on his continuing after marriage to go off on hunting and fishing trips, leaving her while he spends evenings out "with the boys," and to continue to deposit his pay check in his name — and his alone. The amount of togetherness expected by his would-be wife might be a real shocker.

So admittedly, his and her lists of expectations might put a damper on a number of marriages. But the ones who did agree to marry after knowing exactly what would be expected of them as husbands and wives should have a better chance at successful marriages.

In a previous column I discussed the importance of physical health to your child's success in school. Today I want to emphasize an equally important factor — emotional health. A sound mind in a sound body has long been the basis for success in almost any undertaking, and school is no exception.

As Dr. Ardath Franck, director of the Akron, Ohio Speech and Reading Center, points out — the best a parent can do to help a child is to send him to school happy. Your child may have butterflies about leaving home for the first time to go to school. Reassure him by putting him on the school bus with an older brother, sister or friend or taking him to school yourself for the first few days. If at all possible, be at home when he returns or make sure that someone familiar is there.

It is most important that he feel happy and secure at home. If there are younger children at home all day, see to it that he gets an extra measure of affection and attention when school is out. He needs someone to listen to his tales of what happened at school when he is in the mood to share them.

If your child knows that mommy and daddy love him and are interested in everything that concerns him, he will probably make a good adjustment to school. Naturally, he must feel that his teacher is concerned about his welfare, too. You will know intuitively how he feels about his teacher by listening to his accounts with a "third ear."

Problems stemming from home can really upset your child's apple cart at school if they aren't corrected. If you expect too much of him, for example, or he overhears your marital quarrels, his school behavior may suffer. The arrival of a new baby or the feeling that another child is your favorite may also upset him.

If the teacher tells you Johnny is inattentive, nervous, quarrelsome or antisocial, don't overlook the possibility of emotional difficulties only you can remedy. Occasionally, you may need professional help to get at the root of the problem.

If you safeguard your child's physical, mental and emotional health, he will have the best chance possible to make the most of the school year ahead.

Edgar Kaplan, the author of "Winning Contract Bridge Complete" and numerous other books on bridge, and Norman Kay are one of the finest pairs in the world.

In common with most experts, they like to bid as illustrated by Norman's one diamond overcall with only 10 high card points and not much of a suit. Nevertheless, it told Edgar what to lead against three no-trump and Edgar opened the eight. The deuce was played from dummy and now it was up to Norman to make the first fine defensive play of the hand. He played the nine of diamonds — not the king.

South was in with the jack and led a low club toward dummy and now it was up to Edgar to make a winning play. He did this by rising with his ace of clubs. Edgar led the four of diamonds next. Dummy ducked again but this time Norman was ready with the king. Another diamond lead set up two diamond tricks for Norman while

Launch Project To Purchase Gorillas

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —Albuquerque's Junior Chamber of Commerce has launched a project to raise $15,000 for the purchase of three gorillas.

The Jaycees started a cleanup project at the zoo in 1963. The gorilla idea came after construction started on a $94,000 ape house.

he still held the king of clubs as an entry.

There doesn't seem to be much to this hand, but it really is worth a lot of study. You should note that Norman's play at trick one might have cost him a trick if Edgar had been unable to gain the lead with a club but Norman took that chance. You should also note that if Edgar had not played second hand high on the first club lead that three no-trump would have rolled home.

It required the combination of the low diamond play at trick one and the ace of clubs play at trick two to get the diamonds established while Norman still held an entry.

Finalize Fishing Derby Plans

Sedalia's Water Department is finalizing preparations for the first fishing derby at the city's Springfork Reservoir south of town on Labor Day.

The Board of Public Works at its July meeting approved the fishing derby and set up three $10 prizes—for the largest channel catfish, bass and crappie taken from the lake on that day.

This week the board put the icing on the derby cake with the stocking of 125 channel catfish ranging in weight from a half-pound up to nine pounds. All these fish, secured from the Osage Beach Hatchery operated by former Pettis County Jim Kahrs, were tagged and any tagged fish caught will be worth one free day of fishing at the reservoir—plus the use of a boat.

Additional picnic tables have also been installed at the lake for fishermen wishing to make a day of the event. The derby was planned after the July 4 holiday lured a record number of fishermen to the city impoundment and the derby is seen as a means of acquainting even more Sedalia sportsmen with the recreational potential of Springfork.

Lunch is to be served at the lake on Labor Day, the board has announced. The lake is located south of Sedalia off Route V near the Rod & Gun Club.

Spoiler Role For Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals are proving to be a pretty live corpse.

Eight games out of first place with only 28 to play, and with six teams ahead of them, the Cardinals appear certain to give up their World Championship flag.

They blanked the Cubs for the second straight day Wednesday 9-0, in Chicago for their seventh victory in nine games to bring them to the .500 mark.

Tracy Stallard extended St. Louis' scoreless pitching to 22 innings, cutting off the Cubs on three hits. It was only the third complete game for Stallard, now 9-6.

The righthander walked only one, struck out eight and retired 14 straight hitters at one stretch.

Bob Skinner gave him the run he needed with his fifth homer in the second. The score was 4-0 when the Cardinals wrapped up the contest with five markers in the eighth.

The teams conclude the three-game set today with Ray Washburn (8-10) of the Cards scheduled to face Bob Hendley (1-2). Kansas City edged the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, Wednesday night in Kansas City.

The Indians had taken a 2-0 lead against John O'Donoghue, but Bill Bryan smashed a 440-foot homer with two on in the second inning and Wayne Causey hit a solo blast in the sixth for the decisive run.

O'Donoghue left in the seventh and Jack Aker finished up.

Owls Hold Advantage

Contrasting Picture Is Seen In Marshall Squads

Marshall's two football teams offer a contrasting picture of optimism and skepticism concerning the 1965 season, with the Owls holding brighter of the two viewpoints.

Marshall Mercy's Mustangs, coached by James Heinzen, can call on only eight returning lettermen this season, and tackles John Hagedorn and Bob Hagedorn, both seniors, top the scales at 180.

The Mustangs will field a relatively light line, averaging in at 164, while their backfield hovers around the 162 mark.

Coach Heinzen issued an emphatic "never" when asked if his team's reserve strength would compare favorably to other benches. However, he said, "banning injuries we may win half of our games."

The Mustang's line of experience lies with six seniors and two juniors this season, all of them starters. They are the Hagedorn brothers, Glen Koch, fullback, 170; Jerry Kempf, end, 165; Greg Wise, guard, 165; Steve Hoff, halfback, 175; Ray Heilman, end, 145; and Greg Desmond, guard, 165.

Bunn, a member of the Sedalia Board of Public Works, examines approximately a 9-pound channel catfish, one of 125 fish stocked in the Lake Monday which will be worth a free day of fishing plus the use of a boat to the lucky fisherman at the fishing day derby set for Labor Day. Any of the 125 tagged fish caught will be worth the free day of fishing at the reservoir. In addition, $10 is being offered by the board for the largest channel cat, bass and crappie caught during the derby. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Took Hambletonian

Dancer No Shoo-In But Still Won Race

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The Hambletonian Trophy, most coveted in harness racing and a winning check of $59,900 was in the Dancer family Thursday but it wasn't put there by the head of the household, Stanley.

In five previous attempts to win the top stake for 2-year-old trotters, the 33-year-old Stanley Dancer had failed. But this time everyone thought he was a shoo-in with Noble Victory, unbeaten in 20 starts with record earnings for his division of $280,566.

Noble Victory didn't make it. But Egyptian Candor, his stablemate, did. He is owned by Stanley's wife, Rachel, trained by Stanley, but driven by close friend, Del Cameron.

The sleek, brown son of Star's Pride is named after Candor, the first horse the Dancer's ever owned and the one who launched Stanley on a fabulous career of driver and trainer, capped in 1964 when he became the first reinsman ever to drive winners of more than $1 million in a single season.

It took four heats to decide the winner Wednesday and only three times previously in the Hambletonian's 40-year history had it taken that many for a decision.

Short Stop, a $6,000 purchase by the Pennwin Stable of Winston-Salem, N.C., and driven by Ned Bower, won the first heat by a head over Nimble Boy in 2:05 1-5. Egyptian Candor took a nose victory over Nimble Boy and Ralph Baldwin in the second mile in 2:04 3-5.

Ambro Flight, entering the Hambletonian with a winning string of 22 starts, captured the third heat by a head over Egyptian Candor in 2:03 4-5.

The only filly in the starting field of 11, Ambro Flight, is owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., and driven by Joe O'Brien.

In the race-off of heat winners, Egyptian Candor won by a head.

Palmer Is Top Man In Oklahoma Open

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Two-time winner Arnold Palmer was the man to beat today as a 145-man field teed off for the seventh annual $65,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

The defending champion, Palmer last year toured the 7,098-yard, par 72 Quail Creek course in a spectacular 277, a record 11 strokes under par. He also won in 1959.

Heinzen, beginning his eighth year as head coach, is a graduate of Missouri Valley College and his teams hold a 29-6-15 record. Without conference affiliation, the Mercy Mustangs compiled a 4-2-2 record last season.

Then, on the other side of the Marshall football coin, the Marshall Owls' head coach, Cecil Naylor, says: "By returning lettermen we should be considered our conference favorite, but Excelsior Springs, Higginsville and Lexington have fine returning teams."

Continuing his glance into the future, he muses, "We have enough returning lettermen and depth to have one of the best teams in years at Marshall. We do have a depth problem in defensive and offensive backs, but the boys are working hard and with their right attitude could go all the way."

That and the fact that the Owls, according to Naylor, have good strength on defense and fair on offense, makes that segment of the Marshall football picture more aggressive.

Both Marshall teams will be using a wing-T formation this season. But the Owls, who finished second in the conference last year, have a much heavier line than the Mustangs, averaging at 183, while their backfield weighs in at around 163.

On top of that, the Owls will have 15 returning lettermen and eight returning starters this season, so experience won't be a major problem. Naylor, also a graduate of Missouri Valley College, is in his sixth year as a football coach.

The Owls play in the MRVC league and are slated to travel to Sedalia, Sept. 10, for the season opener against their perennial rival, the Smith-Cotton Tigers.

On the Owls' line-up will be starters Kile Guthrie, FB, 185, Sr.; Ron Merrill, WB, 150, Sr.; Larry McClure, E, 180, Sr.; Rich Whitney, T, 167, Sr.; Tony Morgan, G, 180, Sr.; Raymond Ritchie, C, 175, Sr.; Larry Poindester, T, 235, Sr.; and Ronnie Abscher, HB, 159, Jr.

'65 Attendance May Reach New Heights

Practice At Park

Soccer Activity Starts Saturday

The bugle call for young Sedalia soccer players will sound throughout the city this Saturday when the Khoury Soccer League starts its program of activity with a special clinic at Liberty Park.

Two practice sessions are slated for that day, the first at 10 a.m. and the second at 1 p.m. Sedalia youngsters between the ages of seven to 18 wishing to try out for soccer are requested to appear at the clinic Saturday.

Those boys who did not play on a soccer team here last year will be given places on teams during the session. A group of experienced, and slightly older, soccer players will conduct the special clinic.

The Khoury League has programmed 22 teams in four classes for this year, with about 18 youngsters to a team. There will be six teams each in the Atom, Bantam and Midget classes, with four set for the Junior class.

In the Atom class, boys in ages ranging from seven to nine will see action, while in the Bantam, the range is from 10-11; Midgets from 12-13; and Juniors from 14-18.

Opening the 1965 schedule, the Atom and Bantam class teams will see first action on Saturday, Sept. 18, while the Midgets and Juniors play that following Sunday.

Each team is scheduled to play six night games at Centennial Park on the men's softball diamond or the Babe Ruth baseball diamond, Mondays through Wednesdays.

Paul Klover, district supervisor for Khoury, said three more sponsors are needed at present. He also said any youngster desiring information, or who cannot make the try-outs, should call him at TA 6-7973, or Dr. Russell Drenon at TA 6-3488.

Wonder If Sandy Can Save L. A.

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Like Humpty Dumpty, the Los Angeles Dodgers have had a great fall, and now they must wonder whether Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale can put them back together again.

Koufax and Drysdale, the winningest pair of pitchers on any team in the majors, were on the bottom of the fall Wednesday night as the charging Pittsburgh Pirates dropped them in a doubleheader 3-2 in 11 innings and 2-1.

The double defeat tumbled the Dodgers out of the National League lead because at the same time Cincinnati swept a pair from Milwaukee 7-6 and 2-0. That put the Reds on top, one percentage point ahead of the Dodgers.

The San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Philadelphia, are one-half game back, the Braves are in fourth, two behind, and the fifth-place Pirates—with 10 victories in their last 11 games—trail by only 2½ games.

In other NL games, St. Louis trounced Chicago 9-0 and New York defeated Houston 4-1 before bowing 8-5.

En route to his latest loss, Koufax broke his 1963 National League season strikeout record of 306 by fanning 10 Pirates and bringing his total to 313, just 35 away from Bob Feller's all-time mark.

The Pirates won the game in the 11th on a walk to Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni's double. In the nightcap, Bill Virdon, who tied the contest with a sixth-inning homer, singled in the eighth, raced to third on Roberto Clemente's single and scored as Maury Wills fumbled Manny Mota's grounder.

The Reds won the opener with two runs in the ninth when rookie Tommy Helms tripled home Marty Keough and scored as Tom Harper singled. Deron Johnson drove in three Cincinnati runs with two homers while Mack Jones and Hank Aaron knocked in a pair for the Braves.

Jim Maloney, now 17-6, pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 in the nightcap. Tony Perez supported Maloney with a second-inning homer.

Tracy Stallard posted the Cardinals' second straight shutout over the Cubs with a three-hitter. Curt Flood knocked in two runs while Bob Skinner homered.

Joe Christopher's two-run triple in the eighth helped New York's Al Jackson to his seventh victory against 17 defeats in the opener. The Astros came back for the second-game victory as Rusty Staub hit a three-run homer and Jim Gentile drove in three runs with two homers.

Sell Outs For Home Encounters

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Another series of Big Eight conference football attendance records seems certain with the opening games all two weeks away. Almost 40 per cent of the home games are either sold out or on the verge of a sell out.

Some 30 games and seasonal crowd records were broken last year, but 1965 will be another banner year, with Nebraska leading the way in its newly-expanded stadium, seating 52,450.

Five of Nebraska's six home games are sold out and less than 3,000 seats are left for the opener with TCU. More than 41,000 season tickets have been sold. Including all tickets sold to date, the Huskers are certain to draw at least 300,000 fans.

Missouri is next in line, also with a newly-expanded stadium, and the Tigers report the Nebraska and Oklahoma games may be sellouts.

Oklahoma lists the Navy game as a probable sellout and reports sales running about the same as last year. Public season ticket demand at OU is expected to be about 24,000. The Texas game at Dallas is sold out.

Kansas is close to last year's record pace in ticket sales. The Jayhawks set a record with an average of more than 40,000 last year. The Missouri game at Lawrence may be a sellout.

At Colorado season ticket sales are running about 1,000 behind the record sale of 1961, when the Buffs won the league championship.

Oklahoma State reports an increase in season ticket sales for the third straight year, but neither the Missouri or Nebraska games are expected to be sold out at this stage.

Kansas State reports the largest sale since 1955 with the Nebraska game a possible sell out. Plans for a 35,000 seat stadium are being drawn at K-State.

Iowa State went through the season ticket re-order period on an even keel with last year and reports the Missouri and Oklahoma State games might be sellouts. A couple of early victories could push attendance past last year's record.

The Big Eight drew 1,421,245 fans last fall, a new seasonal mark, and the average of 36,442 per game was another mark—the fourth time in the past five years this has been broken.

Horse Show Will Continue At Fairgrounds

The Missouri State Fair grounds coliseum will be active this Labor Day weekend when the continuation of the fair's Horse Show program will be held. The Registered Quarter Horse show will open on Saturday through Monday.

Wilbert C. Askew, secretary of the fair, said the show is being held under the National Quarter Horse Association rules and regulations. "We consider this show as a continuation of the annual fair horse show," he said.

According to George Nix, superintendent of the show, has indicated an entry list of nearly 500 horses. Entries are being received from all over the country for the three-day show, a good number from Texas and Oklahoma.

Secretary Askew said the fair grounds will be open to the public, no charges being made for either admission to the grounds or show nor will there be any car parking charges.

Oliva May Win Purple Heart Award

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
When baseball starts handing out its postseason awards, it's just possible that Minnesota's Tony Oliva will wind up with his second silver bat and first purple heart.

Oliva, who has been playing all season long with a bone chip in the middle finger of his right hand, came back from a week's layoff Wednesday night and resumed defense of his American League batting title with two doubles and a single in the Twins' 5-2 victory over Detroit.

The 24-year-old left handed swinger still trails Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who is hitting .323, and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, swinging at a .319 clip, in the three-way struggle for the title and the silver bat that goes with it.

But Oliva's 3-for-4 performance quickly shot him back into contention with a .315 mark as he attempts to become the first batting champion to repeat since Boston's Ted Williams accomplished the feat in 1957 and 1958.

While Oliva resumed his chase for the batting title, the front-running Twins moved eight games ahead of second-place Chicago in the AL pennant race. The White Sox were rained out at Baltimore.

Elsewhere, Kansas City edged Cleveland 4-3, Washington outlasted Boston 8-7 and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the New York Yankees 7-6 in 12 innings.

Oliva, who is second in the league in runs scored with 96, third in doubles with 33 and fourth in runs batted in with 83, doubled home the first run and then scored on a passed ball in a three-run first inning outburst against the Tigers.

Home runs by Bill Bryan and Wayne Causey got the job done for the A's. The Indians took a 2-0 lead against John O'Donoghue in the second but Bryan hit a three-run shot in the A's half and Causey hit what turned out to be the clincher with the bases empty in the sixth inning off Luis Tiant.

The Senators pulled out front to stay, 8-6, in the seventh inning after the Red Sox had tied the score in their half with a three-run rally built on Jim Gosger's double, four walks, two wild pitches and a sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen's double and Willie Kirkland's single broke the tie and Don Lock singled in the final run.

The Yankees contributed to their own downfall by committing seven errors and having two men picked off. The winning run in the 12th was set up when Pedro Ramos issued two-out walks to Bob Rodgers and Paul Schaal. Jose Cardenal then singled Rodgers home with the winning run for the Angels.

Things To Be Grateful For In Troubled Times

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — A few things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

The sight of sailboats racing on a wind-grooved sea. The sound of church bells at twilight. The purring contentment of cats and the eager inquisitiveness of puppies. Hearing two children doing their homework together.

Waiting in the dark for someone you love to arrive. Watching the happy faces of people greeting each other at air terminals. Reading a good novel that leaves you feeling that life is important and the human race worthwhile. Opening a package sent by a distant friend. Finding more money in your wallet than you had thought was there.

Looking down on the peaceful face of a sleeping child. Lying awake in a railway bunk as the train roars through moonlit valleys and dozing towns. Seeing the wonderful patterns made by lightning during a night summer storm in the Midwest — as if heaven were putting on a Fourth of July fireworks show just for you.

Playing catch with the kids down the street and showing them you can still whip over a few fast ones. Waking up on Saturday morning and knowing Monday is still two full days away. Picking up a good luck penny from the sidewalk. Finding an ideal parking place after driving around the block only twice.

Getting a pay raise when you were sure you'd been passed by for another year. Going to the dentist and being told he had hope of saving the tooth after all.

Kissing the honest wrinkles on the cheeks of an old lady you admire. Shaking hands with a retired man who earned his calouses from life the hard way. Clearing your conscience by paying a bill you've put off for too long. Dreaming a pleasant dream of someone you were fond of when young and who isn't around anymore.

The delightful terror of buying something you can't afford but don't want to do without. Listening to a carnival fortune teller stage-whisper fabulous lies about your fabulous future. Doing a kind deed for a stranger and seeing the surprised gratitude in his eyes.

Wondering at this world's strange blend of beauty and noise and suffering, but believing that something better is always on the way, heralded by bugles in the heart's ear.

Business Analysis

Itinerant Field Workers Becoming Farm History

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., (AP) — In the past four years, mechanical cotton-pickers have replaced 250,000 seasonal farm laborers in the nation's 10 major cotton-producing states.

The total number of seasonal laborers used on the cotton farms in these states has dropped from 500,000 in 1961 to half that number.

The percentage of the cotton crop harvested mechanically has increased at a fantastic rate in nine of the states. The exception—California—had already achieved a high level of mechanization by 1961.

Farmers have gone to the machines because they are faster and more economical than employing thousands of extra field hands.

California this year will employ about 20,000 seasonal laborers in the harvest of 742,000 acres of cotton land.

The other nine top cotton-growing states now are approaching the high level of mechanization California had reached four years ago.

In 1961, the Texas cotton crop was worked by 182,000 seasonal laborers. Last year the total was down to 53,000. Totals in Arkansas for the same years were 88,000 and 42,000.

The same trend is reflected in other states: Alabama 25,000 and 19,000; Georgia 40,000 and 27,000; south Carolina 25,000 and 17,000; Oklahoma 25,000 and 20,000; Louisiana 23,000 and 12,000; Tennessee 35,000 and 27,000; and Mississippi 31,000 and 26,000.

This year, about 230,000 seasonal workers will be used in the harvest of almost 13 million acres of cotton land in the 10 states.

State farm labor agencies, which supplied the breakdown on the harvest figures for each state, have similar opinions about what has happened to the 250,000 seasonal laborers who worked the cotton crop four years ago.

Most of them, the agencies

The agencies also report that few young people become seasonal laborers these days, indicating that the itinerant field hand is becoming farm history.

Progress In Emergency Steel Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slight progress was reported today in emergency White House steel negotiations, with President Johnson pushing the talks toward a critical phase.

A source in the negotiations said the steel industry had raised its money offer "a little," but that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union refused to budge from its last demand.

The last publicly reported industry offer was a 40.6 cent hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits over three years. The last union demand was reportedly 49.8 cents.

Johnson has said both sides must make concessions to reach a settlement.

Union President I. W. Abel did not deny the reported industry offer to raise the ante in the multimillion dollar labor bargaining, but said: "If they have, they haven't told us about it."

The talks resume at 9:30 a.m. in the fourth day since Johnson called the negotiations here from Pittsburgh in an effort to avert a strike that would cripple about 80 per cent of the nation's steel production.

The White House appeared hoping for a major break in the talks well in advance of next Thursday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline. Johnson won an eight-day strike postponement Monday night.

"Steel negotiations have entered the stage of hard and tough bargaining," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

There was no word on the amount the industry reportedly boosted its previous offer.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

The reported industry hike in its offer was in addition to another slight boost which sources

Radioman Third Class Robert E. Hawkins, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hawkins, 2201 East 12th, Sedalia, is attending an eight-week course of instruction in Teletype Maintenance at the U. S. Naval School, Teletype Maintenance, Norfolk, Va.

The school qualifies the student for the maintenance of teletypewriter equipment both ashore and afloat. Emphasis is placed on the theory of opera-said the 10 major steel companies had made before leaving Pittsburgh.

An informed source said the government estimated the two sides were 12 cents apart for a three-year contract when Johnson called the talks to the White House.

Each cent of added labor costs is estimated to total some $10 million a year.
